Introduction

In order to make our website dotmobile.app (the "Website") and mobile application (the "App"), collectively referred to as (the "Services"), work properly and optimally, and in order to provide you with relevant products and services, we place small text files called cookies on your device. These cookies and similar technologies have a variety of functions, including remembering you and your preferences when you re-visit our website. This policy provides you with information on Cookies and similar technologies for our Services. Third party sites may also place cookies on your device, we have provided you with some information on these cookies for reference and informational purposes only in the "Examples of cookies Used" section of this policy. We are not responsible for the third-party cookies and their behaviour.

What is a Cookie?

A Cookies is a small text files that a website saves on your computer or mobile device when you visit a website. They are then sent back to the originating website on each subsequent visit or another website that recognizes that Cookie to create a record of the web-site visitor's online activity. Most websites use Cookies as they are an industry standard. Other similar technologies such as device-IDs, in-App codes, pixel tags or web beacons have a similar function to Cookies.

Cookies and similar technologies are meant to enhance your experience on our website, save you time, remember your preferences, and help us understand which pages are most popular so that we can use this knowledge and improve our services and overall user experience. Accordingly, some Cookies last for several minutes, while others expire long after the last date of your visit. However, the expiry dates of some Cookies are customizable.
